Week beginning 20-4-20

Task 1: Create a Tutorial

Mr Aspinall and Mr Burges have been really impressed by all the new things that you children are learning: cooking, knitting, creating ponds, playing darts, sports tricks... And we have been inspired. Mr Aspinall has been learning how to be a barber whilst Mr Burges finally got around to fixing his leaking outside tap.

Mr Burges found a video on Youtube which helped him (and it was really simple). Watch it using the link below.

What do you think of the quality of the tutorial? Could you do better at creating an instructional video, explanation or written tutorial?

Your challenge:

- 1) First you must decide on something new that you will or have recently been learning how to do (it can be ANYTHING- just make sure you are passionate about it and it isn't too complicated to explain).
- 2) Next, think carefully about what are the most important steps for being successful, write these down in order and plan how to explain the process as simply as possible.
- 3) After this, decide on how to present your tutorial. This could be a video, lego-style diagrams, written list, a poster, a Minecraft scene...
- 4) Lastly, photograph or upload your creation to Seesaw so we can all enjoy your teachings. You can also post a link if you have uploaded your video.

Task 2: Moving Movie Poster

Since the creation of entertainment, posters have been used to advertise shows and persuade people that they are worth seeing. This is still true for many forms of entertainment, including movies.

Mr Burges loves the Marvel Avengers movies whereas Mr Aspinall cannot get enough of Disney (he knows all the words to the songs!). What is your favourite movie?

Your Challenge:

Create a poster that would fit onto a double decker bus which you think would advertise your favourite film in a positive way.

Start by drawing a basic double decker bus on a sheet of paper. Next decide where you could put the images and text to advertise your poster. You could even do a rear view of the bus too or paint the bus a colour to suit the imagery.

Make sure to photograph and upload your film poster to Seesaw so Mr Burges and Mr Aspinall can see how you got on.
